

Meet the 'Ghost of the Mountains'

The Snow Leopard is one of India's most elusive and endangered big cats, prowling the high altitudes of the Himalayas.

Swipe to learn more

Did You Know?

Incredible Jumpers:

They can leap up to 50 feet in a single bound!

Built-in Scarf:

Their long, thick tails act like blankets to keep them warm in freezing temperatures.

Silent Roar:

Unlike lions or tigers, Snow Leopards can't roar. They make a sound called a "chuff."

Why Are They Disappearing? ⚠

With only about 700 left in India, they are highly vulnerable.

Climate Change:

Warming temperatures are shrinking their alpine habitats.

Poaching:

Hunted for their beautiful fur and bones.

Habitat Loss:

Increasing human-wildlife conflict due to infrastructure expansion.

Let's Protect Our Snow Leopards! ❄️

Awareness is the first step to conservation.
We must support local communities and organizations working in the Himalayas to protect these magnificent creatures.

Share this post to spread awareness! 